Linnda Durré, Ph.D.

BIOGRAPHY

Linnda Durré, Ph.D. is a psychotherapist in private practice with 43 years of experience as well as being a business and corporate consultant and trainer. She has 46 years of experience as an expert witness, case consultant and jury selection consultant. She is an international speaker, TV and radio talk show host, published author, frequent media guest, and an Internet, magazine & newspaper columnist. She supervised undergraduate interns for the Center for Experiential Learning at University of Central Florida for 12+ years, at Valencia Community College for 14 years, OCPS – Winter Park Tech, Rollins College & and film students at Full Sail University.

She has appeared on Oprah, 60 Minutes, The Today Show, O'Reilly (twice), Good Morning America, and on the local Fox station in Orlando 50 times. She has been interviewed and/or cited by Forbes, Wharton, Inc. Magazine, Wall Street Journal, Business Week, NY Times, LA Times, Investor's Business Daily, Career Builder, Yahoo, Monster, AOL, USA Today, U.S. News & World Report etc.

Both her books, Surviving the Toxic Workplace: Protect Yourself Against the Co-Workers, Bosses and Work Environments that Poison Your Day, which was published by McGraw Hill in 2010, and her first book, Great Relationships™ Manual, published by We Publish Books, 2005, can both be purchased online at www.Amazon.com or at Barnes & Noble.

Her column on dealing with difficult bosses was on eBossWatch for years. She has written columns for Forbes, AOL, Monster, Yahoo, Management Issues, A & U Magazine, Exchange Magazine, Orlando Leisure Magazine, and online & print publications.

Her regular column, "The Doctor Is In," for the Orlando Business Journal and American Cities Business Journals, was on business: success, positive management techniques, hiring, firing, communication skills, interns, evaluations, & motivation and can be found on their website: www.bizjournals.com

Dr. Durré consults and speaks to businesses, corporations, agencies, non-profit organizations, and companies and consults with employment attorneys on customer service training, stress management, time management, hostile workplace and workplace violence, bullying, PTSD, conflict resolution, communication skills, personality disputes, team building, job satisfaction, mediation, diversity training, sex harassment by all genders, and discrimination of all types: age, sexual, gender, sexual preference, racial, religious, ethnic, and transgender; motivation, commitment to excellence; how to interview effectively, hiring, firing, writing and delivering clear in-person performance evaluations and giving feedback - topics which are also addressed in her book.

She is an expert witness and has been qualified in nine (9) states (CA, FL, GA, CT, WA, AR, AL, TN, IA). Her 400-page doctoral dissertation was used to pass legislation in several states against psychotherapist/client sexual relationships. She wrote a chapter for the anthology, On Love and Loving, edited by Kenneth Pope, Ph.D. and published by Jossey-Bass. She was asked to role-play an expert witness twice in the Florida Justice Association Al J. Cone Advocacy Institute in August 2017 to excellent reviews – both in direct & cross examination.

Dr. Durré hosted and co-produced the call-in TV advice show, "Ask the Family Therapist," a two-hour call-in show on America's Health Network (AHN), associated with Mayo Clinic, which aired from Universal Studios-Orlando from 1996-1997. She was selected from 200 applicants in a national search and she was vetted by both Mayo Clinic and AHN.

She also hosted and produced, "Personal Success Hotline with Dr. Durré," on a PBS affiliate. From May 2005-February 2006, she appeared weekly on CW's syndicated morning show, "The Daily Buzz," as their resident psychotherapist and wrote the weekly segments for herself and the two hosts.

She hosted, "The Linnda Durré Show," on WEUS 810 AM daily weekdays from 12-1 PM, which streamed live on audio internationally. On WDBO 580 AM radio in Orlando, she hosted and co-produced, "The Dr. Linnda Durré Show," as well as, "Let's Talk with Dr. Linnda Durré," in New York on an NPR affiliate. She was also a contestant on "Jeopardy."

She has appeared on 60 Minutes, Oprah, The Today Show, Canada AM, The O'Reilly Factor (twice), Good Morning America, NPR, PBS, Wharton on SiriusXM Radio, Daytime, Good Day Orlando, Bob Rose Radio Show, ESPN (four times), Jerry Doyle Show, California Public Radio, Christy Clark Show, Michael Jackson Show, Bill Goode Show, Bill Ballance Radio Show (3 years), Growing Bolder, Canadian Broadcast Radio, and on radio and TV stations on ABC, CBS, NBC, CW, NPR, PBS, Fox: local and/or national appearances.

Dr. Durré's segment for & on "60 Minutes" won the top media award for "Best Contribution to the Field of Psychology" at the Annual Convention of the American Psychological Association (APA) in 1978 in Toronto, Canada.

Her past and/or present listings include: Mensa, Who's Who in the West, American Psychological Association, California State Psychological Association, Central Florida Association of Marriage & Family Therapists (CFAMFT), Mental Health Counselors of Central Florida (MHCCF), American Assn. of Marriage & Family Therapists, National Board of Certified Counselors (NBCC), Psychology Today Therapist Directory, Women in Film & Television, Women in Film & FMHCA.
